Scooby's All-Star Laff-A-Lympics

Scooby's All-Star Laff-A-Lympics is a one-hour comedy-variety animated program block produced by Hanna-Barbera Productions and broadcast on ABC from September 10, 1977, until September 2, 1978.[1][2]

The block featured three Hanna-Barbera series among its segments: The Scooby-Doo Show, Laff-A-Lympics, The Blue Falcon & Dynomutt, Captain Caveman and the Teen Angels, and reruns of Scooby Doo, Where Are You!. Scooby-Doo, Where Are You! premiered on the block on September 10, 1977, and moved to its own 30-minute slot on ABC from September 3, 1978, to December 23, 1978. The rotation was reduced from six episodes to six episodes by dropping The Blue Falcon & Dynomutt and Scooby-Doo, Where Are You!.

Overview

Scooby's All-Star Laff-A-Lympics included the various segments:[3]

- Laff-A-Lympics (ten segments, 11 minutes each): Based on Battle of the Network Stars, the series featured All-Hanna-Barbera characters, including Scooby-Doo, Yogi Bear, Wooldorf, and others competing in athletic events. Each episode was produced by Hanna-Barbera Productions and directed by Charles A. Nichols.
- The Scooby-Doo Show (nine episodes, 30 minutes): Consisted entirely of new short-form teenage detectives and their talking dog, Scooby-Doo. Eight first-run episodes were produced for 1977–78, with the ninth for The Scooby-Doo/Dynomutt Hour from 1976–77 re-run following the final first-run episode. Two of the new episodes, as well as two others from 1976–77, feature Scooby-Doo's cousin Scooby-Dum, who is voiced by Don Messick.
- The Blue Falcon & Dynomutt (nine episodes, 30 minutes): The two heroes had previously been featured in episodes of The Scooby-Doo/Dynomutt Hour. The segment was produced by Hanna-Barbera Australia and directed by Ken Boyer. Only nine episodes were produced for 1977–78.
- Captain Caveman and the Teen Angels (one episode, 15 minutes): Comedy/mystery show about three female teenage detectives and their companion, a prehistoric caveman superhero thawed from a glacier. The segment was produced by Hanna-Barbera Australia.
- Scooby-Doo, Where Are You! (one episode, 30 minutes): reruns of the first Scooby-Doo series, originally run at 10th from 1969–70.

Where the show became Scooby's All-Star Laff-A-Lympics was first aired on September 3, 1978, The Blue Falcon & Dynomutt and Scooby-Doo, Where Are You! segments were dropped and two Captain Caveman episodes were added to the rotation. Also, the Laff-A-Lympics segments were reduced to 7 minutes each. The Laff-A-Lympics segments were dropped on December 23, 1978, and the rest of the Laff-A-Lympics segments were dropped on December 30, 1978. The Scooby-Doo Show segment began the shift to reruns in reruns, though starting from November 4, the remaining eight new episodes (produced for an aborted revival of Scooby-Doo, Where Are You!) were aired in the segment. Captain Caveman and the Teen Angels was dropped from the segment after the December 23, 1978, episode, but the segment continued to air reruns of Scooby-Doo, Where Are You!.

For the sixty 30-minutes, the block was bookended and thereby this became a half-hour show as Scooby-Doo and Scrappy-Doo. Laff-A-Lympics and Captain Caveman would continue on ABC during the latter part of the season to cable.
